

Mrs. Hall Victim, Says Dr. Straton

home keeping and the possibilities of motherhood, carries, of necessity, added burdens of restraint and possible sorrow.

And all of these things are intensified where there is culture and real refinement. Think of the pain of disillusionment! Think of the disappointment of a trusting heart! Think of the revulsion of horror when the specter of treason arises in such a path!

Yes, more terrible, far, than physical death and the mutilation of fleshly bodies is the murder of love and the torture at the hands of unfaithfulness of a high and sensitive soul.

Tragedy's Warning

What a warning, therefore, to all who have any regard for righteousness and any respect for the deeper and more sacred forces of a human soul this pitiful tragedy sounds forth.

And wherever guilt may lie, certainly no fair mind can withhold admiration where suffering and injustice are endured with dignity and that quiet reserve which mark the well-balanced mind and the truly poised soul.

There has been in this case a striking illustration of the strength and reserve power which true culture and high breeding bring, and one cannot withhold a meed of praise for fortitude and inborn worth.

Let no one, either, dare to excuse an illicit relationship because an unfaithful husband was disappointed after marriage with the woman of his free choice.

If it is charged that there was "coldness" or "lack of compatibility" or "divergence of taste," the answer is that these things should have been discovered BEFORE marriage, and none of them, or, indeed, any other possible defects of disposition, are justification for treason and the violation of holy marriage vows.

One lesson, therefore, which stands out strong and clear in the midst of all these things is that in matrimony, above every other relationship of earth, we should look before we leap, and trust a God of love to lead us to that mate in life planned and purposed by heavenly omniscience and divine providence.

Marriages for money or for social prestige, or any other consideration, short of pure and noble love, cannot fail to produce disappointment and distress.

TAXPAYERS WIN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Owners of the San Francisco Bulletin were upheld by the Board of Tax Appeals in their fight against tax payments levied by the government, which contended that they had profited in 1920 by the exchange of the newspaper's assets for stock.

Eleanora Sears Celebrates Hike Record in Dance

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—Miss Eleanora Sears, who clipped forty-three minutes from her previous time in walking from Providence to Boston, celebrated her new record by giving a dance in her home here soon after completing her walk.

Miss Sears, a society woman and tennis player, was accompanied on her long hike by Miss Elizabeth Ryan, internationally known tennis star. They reached Miss Sears' home here at 10.50 o'clock last night after an elapsed time of nine hours and fifty-three minutes.

This year's hike was a sequel to the one which Miss Sears took from Providence to Boston last year, when she was said to have won a wager of $1,000 from Howard L. Sturgis of Providence.

Night Club Curfew Awaits Action By Aldermen

The question of a curfew for New York's night clubs is still in abeyance so far as the Board of Aldermen is concerned.

At the third hearing on the curfew question in the City Hall yesterday an attorney was present who said he represented twelve night clubs, but a detailed list indicated that they were more in the nature of public meeting places, such as Webster Hall, Assembly Hall, etc.

The attorney argued that the proposed curfew law would be discriminatory in that it did not compel hotels to close at 3 a. m., the hour fixed by the measure.

Two Pretty Phone Girls Disappear From Their Homes

Two pretty "hello girls" of Morristown, N. J., who have been missing for two days, are being sought today throughout northern New Jersey and Manhattan. Both girls are bobbed and 16.

The girls, Margaret Lenihan, Auburn-haired and blue-eyed, and Mary Scally, who was hatless when last seen by their friends, are believed to have started for Newark together.

No reason is known for their disappearance.
